

REVA

NGX & NXR Reva, better known in Europe as the G-Wiz, unveiled two new cars at Frankfurt. The NXR (Next Revolution) and NGX (Next Generation) are all-electric vehicles that will begin sales in Europe later this year and will be unveiled in India at the Auto Expo next January.

With the NXR the Reva has grown and now seats four in reasonable comfort (with space for small loads at the rear) though it is still a two-door city car. Advanced lithium-ion batteries ensure top speed has gone up to 100kmph while range improves to 140km. Reva officials also promise improved ride and handling, the bugbears of the current car.
